

Symotic Oy works as a contract manufacturer for many clients. Contract manufacturing can mean simply production of specially produced products according customer wishes but it can also mean stocking them for the client for just on time deliveries. The benefits of these agreements are quality and timely deliveries.

We can manufacture clients own designed products with following wire forming methods: Cutting and straightening, 3D bending, cold heading, pressing, rolling and welding. Through our subcontractors we can also arrange surface treatments such as painting, galvanizing, chroming and polishing.

Depending on how complex the product is, it can have one or more above mentioned methods.
